WEEKAPAUG.

Warmer Weather Adds to Surf Bathing Crowds.

The past week at Weekapaug has been a busy one. More cottagers have arrived and the hotels are well filled with guests. The water has been more conducive to bathing because of the warmer weather and the number braving the surf is increasing daily. The Improvement Society has commenced its work for the season.

There was a good attendance at the annual meeting of the Weekapaug Improvement Society held last week. The report of the Treasurer showed a substantial balance. Plans for the improvement of the board walk were discussed, and the construction of a permanent cement walk was advocated by some of the members, but it is thought that the expense involved in laying such a walk is greater than the society can afford at the present time. The next meeting of the society will be held July 22.
